MESSAGE FROM MAYOR GERALD LOGAN

I hope you enjoy our new, expanded Web site. It's part of our drive to keep residents up to date on the latest developments and make it easier to contact elected officials and administrators. As you browse through our pages, you'll find information about the many components that make Port Chester a special place, our parks and houses of worship, our recreation and nutrition programs, our strong interest in educational excellence and our tradition of caring about our neighbors. We welcome your comments and suggestions.

MAYOR
GERALD

Port Chester is a community on the move. We have a rich history, from our first incarnation as the seafaring hamlet of Saw Pit to a leading manufacturing center. In the last two decades, Port Chester is rapidly becoming known as the Restaurant Capital of Westchester County, offering top-rated cuisine for everyone's taste. We encourage people to come and try them. We're a Long Island Sound Shore community, and we have a beautiful promenade along the Byram River, near our downtown development. It's a pleasant place for people to go and take a stroll, or sit and relax. We have several beautiful parks here, that people will enjoy walking through.

The Waterfront at Port Chester, our downtown development and waterfront renewal project is moving forward. The recent opening of Costco Wholesale Club in 2002 was just the first step. In late 2004 and 2005 we'll be completing Phase II of the Waterfront at Port Chester, with the opening of Loews 14 screen state of the art movie theaters, a Bed, Bath & Beyond, Marshalls, DSW Wholesale Shoes, Michaels Arts and Crafts and much, much more. This will be a different shopping experience than in many other communities. You can park your car and within a short walk, visit major retailers, go to a movie and eat at any number of restaurants. We feel we have a destination here that could very nicely become a day for you.

Last year the Village purchased, what originally had been The Horton School on Grace Church Street, for use as our Village Hall. The first priority will be our new Senior-Community Center. This facility will house all our Senior programs, as well as other Village functions. This is a very exciting project for all the residents of our community.

We've set out to improve the quality of life, and we've succeeded. People are taking more pride in their surroundings and keeping their neighborhoods and village parks cleaner. The police force has increased with the growth of the village, giving a clear sign to visitors and residents that Port Chester is a safe place. A Quality of Life Task Force has improved communication between village departments and other government agencies.

The Board of Trustees recently appointed Richard A. Falanka as Village Manager. Mr. Falanka, known as Fritz, has been a key spoke in the Village wheel since 1977, when he became Village Clerk. He later added a second title, Assistant Village Manager.

The Village Manager is Port Chester's chief administrative officer. The manager oversees every village department with a budget in excess of $20,000,000 and 200 employees. Mr. Falanka also prepares the annual budget, negotiates and administers four labor contracts and oversees the downtown redevelopment project and the accompanying infrastructure improvements.

Village Code

The Board of Trustees hired Anthony Siligato as Village Clerk/Treasurer earlier this year. The Village Clerk's Office maintains village records and other official documents. The office prepares agendas for Board of Trustees meetings, and keeps the minutes of those meetings, along with records of approved resolutions. The Clerk's office is also responsible for the Annual Village Election, Records Management and the issuance of various permits and licenses for parking, alarms, boat moorings, dogs, taxis and handicapped permits.

The Vital Statistics Office, which is part of the Clerk's office, maintains the birth and death records dating back to 1887. The Registrar of Vital Records conducts genealogical searches and issues certified copies of birth and death records.

Marriage, hunting and fishing licenses are provided by the Rye Town Clerk, 10 Pearl St., 1st Floor, Port Chester, N.Y. 10573; (914) 939-3570.

Anthony Siligato - Village Clerk/Treasurer
Rosann DiLeo - Deputy Treasurer

Finance Department

10 Pearl St., 2nd Floor, Port Chester, NY 10573
(914) 939-5200

The Finance Department manages an annual village budget of more than $21 million, along with a $3 million Section 8 Housing program. The department has improved for each of the last three years on its state and independent audits. Several streamlining initiatives have saved taxpayer money, including a new check writing system and a new fixed asset program.

Anthony Siligato, the Village Treasurer, works with the Village Manager to prepare the budget, and prepares monthly, quarterly and annual financial reports for the Board of Trustees. Staff members process the village payroll and make payments to vendors. The Finance Department oversees several grants and inter-municipal agreements and does the billing for the downtown development project. Current grants are improving the village's streets and sidewalks, helping to support productions by the Port Chester Council on the Arts, expanding Port Chester's recycling of green waste and funding after-school programs at the Port Chester Public Library, along with other projects.

The Department of Public Works consists of 3 divisions, Highway, Sanitation and the Automotive Garage. The Department's 43 employees are responsible for the maintenance of over 41 miles of Village streets, sanitary sewer pipes and pump stations, sanitation and recycling program, maintenance of all Village owned vehicles and equipment, parks and the marina.

The Department also oversees Port Chester's "Good Neighbor" sidewalk replacement program, which has spurred great interest among residents. One and two family property owners pay 50 percent of the cost of replacing their sidewalks while the Village contributes the other 50 percent of the cost.

The Law Department, under the direction of the Corporation Counsel, is responsible for all legal matters pertaining to the village. The Department's primary objective is to assist village staff in promoting the quality of life for all residents. This includes the enforcement of all laws and taking whatever action necessary through the courts to ensure compliance.

The Corporation Counsel, Mario DeMarco, is appointed by the Board of Trustees. The Village Attorney is a full-time position. He is required by Village Code to have extensive experience in municipal law. This includes such areas as planning and zoning, legislation, contracts, litigation, telecommunications, and labor relations. He prosecutes and defends any actions or proceedings brought by or against the village, officials or employees. He attends all meetings of the Board of Trustees, Planning Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals and all other village boards and commissions on an "as needed" basis. He also renders legal opinions to village officials on all aspects of municipal law.

The Department has worked with elected officials and administrators to bring development to the village. The Marina Redevelopment Project, finally underway after nearly twenty years of planning, is the most notable example. Other successes include the opening of the Home Depot store after years of litigation, the approval of a proposed Holiday Inn Express, and the recent ground-breaking for quality multi-family residential housing such as Brookchester Court.

The Village Attorney, Anthony Cerreto, is appointed by the Village Manager and is retained under contract. Mr. Cerreto has been with the Village since July 1995. Formerly the Deputy Corporation Counsel with the City of Mount Vernon from 1988 to 1995. Began in private practice with the White Plains law firm of Hoffman, Silverberg, Wachtell and Koster. The firm was counsel to the Town of Mamaroneck and had many other municipal clients.

The Village also has a part-time prosecutor, Joseph Latwin, who prosecutes violations of state and local laws. He is appointed by the Board of Trustees. He is a partner in the law firm of Wolf and Latwin, Rye, New York.

Port Chester's Building Department, at 110 Willett Ave., is the place to go when you're ready to make an alteration to a building, or construct a new one. Chief Inspector Leonard Cusumano and a staff of five are prepared to help you determine whether you will need to receive any special permits for project. Much of the Building Department's work boils down to helping people win approval for projects by making sure plans confirm to government regulations. "Please make an appointment, so we can sit down together and come up with a plan," Mr. Cusumano said. Projects that commonly require permits include swimming pools, decks and sheds. Staff members are responsible for helping landlords and tenants:

- Relocate within the village.
- Renovate their building.
- Demolish all or part of the building.
- Receive certificates of occupancy.
- Correct housing code violations.

The Village Code establishes size limits under which projects may proceed without a permit.

Youth Bureau

110 Willett Ave., Port Chester, N.Y. 10573
(914) 939-8342

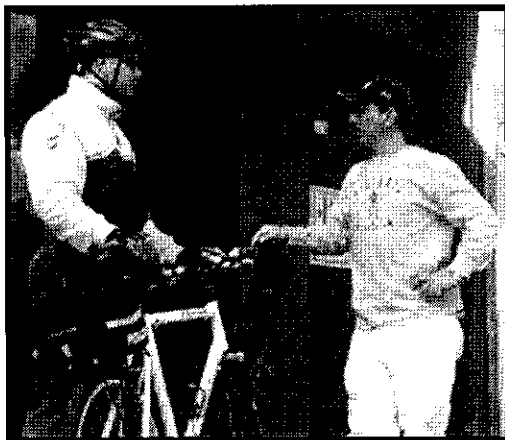

The Port Chester Youth Bureau is an administrative office that promotes youth development by acting as an advocate, coordinator and administrator within the community. The Port Chester Youth Bureau began in January of 2000. The New York State Office of Children and Family Services, the Village of Port Chester, the Port Chester - Rye Union Free School District and the Town of Rye provide funding for the administrative office.

The Youth Bureau has an advisory board of community members that include youth, parents and youth service providers. The Youth Bureau functions and operates in a preventative mode by identifying collaborative opportunities, appropriate funding and best practice models of youth programming that provides mentoring and leadership.

Our after school programs include: Careers in Law Enforcement at Port Chester High School, Port Chester Reads at Holy Rosary Elementary School Library, Creative Arts at Holy Rosary Elementary School Gymnasium.

If you would like more information about our programs, to make a contribution or apply to our Community Advisory Board, please contact Youth Bureau Director, Helen Glynn at (914) 939-8342.

The mission of the Port Chester Police Department is to enhance the quality of life in our village, by working in cooperation with the public we serve to maintain a feeling of mutual safety and security, by enforcing the law within the framework of the Constitution, and by providing those services which will protect the people, preserve the peace and contribute to a safe environment for all.

PATROL

Members of the Uniform Patrol Division constantly and alertly patrol designated areas, giving particular attention to those locations most vulnerable to the commission of crime. The division is broken into 5 squads, each with a lieutenant, sergeant and officers. Capt. John Telesca is the commanding officer of the division. Since his promotion in 1999, he has worked with Chief Joseph Krzeminski to launch several new initiatives, which have improved public safety and quality of life in the village. The new initiatives include:

- A plainclothes conditions unit now targets problem areas, helping to reduce public drinking, loitering, loud noise and other community concerns.
- The traffic enforcement unit has added two officers, leading to an increase in the number of traffic violation reports and parking summonses.
- The Department has initiated an expanded training program to include the "less than lethal force" continuum, giving officers alternatives for dealing with unruly or emotionally disturbed people.
- The division is expected to add an emergency services truck within the next year. It will provide a central location for pepper spray, taser equipment and other tools.

INVESTIGATIVE UNIT

The department's five detectives and two supervisors are responsible for the prevention and investigation of criminal cases in the village, the detention and arrest of criminal offenders, finding missing persons, recovering stolen property, proper cooperation with other authorities and the apprehension of fugitives from justice. Capt. Albert Schnell and Detective Sgt. Royal Monroe are the commanding officers. In recent years, detectives have benefited from new technology. A digital intelligence gathering and booking system has enabled the department to share information on suspects with other law enforcement agencies. A computer sits atop each desk in the bureau's new office on the refurbished north side of police headquarters.

The Port Chester Fire Department (PCFD) was established in 1823 as Volunteer Companies to protect the lives and properties of the Village then known as the Sawpit. Today, we are a professional combination department whose primary firefighting force is volunteer and we respond to all emergencies in the Villages of Port Chester and Rye Brook.

The department is commanded by a volunteer Chief and two Assistants. Engine Companies, a Ladder Company and Heavy Rescue make up the balance of the volunteer force of approximately 300 men and women. Career staff provide dispatch and 1 or 2 firefighters on initial responses. Rye Brook also maintains a career staff of 2 to 3 firefighters working from 0700 to 1900.

The Port Chester-Rye- Rye-Brook Volunteer Ambulance Corps celebrates its 35th anniversary this year with a reputation as one of the best emergency medical services organizations in Westchester County. The Corps handles about 4,800 emergency calls a year, needing assistance from neighboring EMS services an average of 15 times, one of lowest in the region. "We have a very highly trained, dedicated staff," Administrator Scott Moore said. "Many of our volunteers come from outside the region. People want to be here to learn."

The organization serves the Villages of Port Chester and Rye Brook and the City of Rye. It has 45 staff members, including 16 volunteers. Paid staff members include 17 paramedics and 13 EMTs. Two ambulances are in operation 24 hours a day. Both are staffed with a paramedic and an emergency medical technician.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Port Chester-Rye- Rye Brook Volunteer Ambulance Corps (PCRRBVAC) is dedicated to serve the Emergency Medical Service and local Ambulance transportation needs of the communities of Port Chester, Rye and Rye Brook, New York. PCRRBVAC is respectful of the trust bestowed upon it by these communities to protect the health and well being of their citizens. The Corps strives to provide quality Emergency Medical Care utilizing the latest techniques and equipment in a timely, compassionate and cost effective manner. The Corps will identify and be responsive to emerging community health care and emergency response needs.
